Phillips Industries Congratulates Pete Joy on Receiving the CVSN President's Award

Santa Fe Springs, CA (September 18, 2018) Phillips Industries adds their congratulations to Pete Joy upon receiving the Commercial Vehicle Solutions Network (CVSN) President's Award this year. The award was presented on Monday, September 10 at the opening general session of the CVSN Annual Aftermarket Distribution Summit in Braselton, GA.

The President's Award recognizes those individuals who have contributed greatly to the heavy-duty aftermarket and promoting and supporting the independent aftermarket distributor. Recipients of this award can be identified as those who are committed to honesty, integrity, and selflessness and have a desire to help mentor and build strong relationships within the heavy-duty industry.

Over the span of Pete's 45-year career, he has made many positive, lasting contributions to the commercial vehicle industry. Pete has dedicated his career to mentoring talented men and women from junior roles to senior management positions. He was also among the small group of executives originally responsible for consolidating multiple aftermarket events into what we now know as HDAW. Currently, he is responsible for global business development for Phillips Industries.

Rob Phillips, president and COO of Phillips Industries commented, "It's truly a great honor to be celebrating Pete's contribution to the industry. The CVSN President's Award for his service to the heavy-duty aftermarket is well deserved.” Bob Phillips, chairman and CEO of Phillips Industries, who not only considers Joy an associate, but a great friend, had the following to say regarding CVSN’s recognition of Pete with this award, “Congratulations, Pete, in receiving the CVSN’s President’s Award. You’ve certainly put your blood, sweat, and tears into the industry to earn it and the industry is all the better because of it.”
