FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Phillips Industries Displays Unique ISO Single Coil Adapter Cable

Hannover, Germany (September 26, 2018) During IAA Commercial Vehicles 2018, Phillips Industries is displaying their ISO Single Coil Adapter Cable that combines the two separate 7N and 7S cables into one coil to avoid tangling. It will be exhibited in the Phillips Industries booth, Hall 22/Exhibit E40.

The Phillips Single Coil Adapter Cable is a unique configuration for ISO applications unavailable from other electrical component manufacturers. The 7N and 7S WEATHER-TITE™ PERMAPLUGS™ seal out moisture and contaminants to protect against corrosion. The 0.5m long cable leads and PERMAPLUGS are color-coded black (7N) and yellow (7S) for easy function identification from a distance.

The Single Coil Adapter Cable has excellent recoil memory, can withstand a temperature range of -40°C to 125°C and is abrasion, chemical and corrosion resistant. The assembly meets ISO 12098, ISO 1185 and ISO 3731 specifications, and is ADR certified. It's available with a 12 or 13 pin population and in 3.5m or 4.5m total length.
